From the moment you enter this superb establishment at Manor Parade, Sheepcote Road, Harrow, you can feel the warmth and hospitality inviting you to relax and enjoy a fantastic meal which simply cannot be beaten.

Tony Reitano, who has been at Trattoria Sorrentina for almost 20 years, running it for 13 with partners before taking over as owner and manager in 1990, ensures all products are absolutely fresh and insists on outstanding quality, service and presentation. Everything prepared at Trattoria Sorrentina is guaranteed to be fresh, with all fruit and vegetables coming from the market — and the difference is delightfully apparent.

was awarded the Heartbeat Award six years ago, for the healthy options on the menu, which pleasantly proves that not all Italian food is stodgy and starchy, as the chefs have updated and introduced new modern ideas to the menu, complemented by such garnishes as lemon and olive oil.

And you are guaranteed not to be disappointed, as Trattoria Sorrentina has one of the most comprehensive menus in the vicinity.

Rightly proud of his excellent restaurant, Tony offers a fantastic selection of fish, duck and steak dishes, all of which can be enjoyed with the vegetables of your choice, and with one of the lovely wines from his well stocked cellar. A specials board, which changes daily, can also be selected from.

All staff hold the Basic Food Hygiene Award, and are always happy to help you select your meal, or which wine complements it.
